Title:	Around 50 people fall ill after eating Bhandara in Gwalior, Madhya Pradesh
Action By CSU, IDSP -NCDC	Information communicated to DSU -Gwalior, SSU – Madhya Pradesh

More than 50 people including around 25 children fell ill after eating food in a Bhandara (a religious publicly organized feast) in Damoura village, Hastinapur in Gwalior district.

Bhandara was organised at the house of Balwant Singh Gurjar in Damora village of Hastinapur police station, about 35 km away from the Gwalior city. When the people of the village reached home after eating Bhandara, they suffered with stomach ache and started vomiting. Later, the condition of the children and women started deteriorating. After which, the people of the village immediately took them to Hastinapur Health Center with the help of a tractor-trolley.

According to the information, the condition of five people was very critical and they were referred to Murar District Hospital.

On getting the information, Hastinapura Police and Sub-Divisional Magistrate (SDM) HB Sharma also reached the hospital. They had spoken to sick children and women.
